Calgary, February 23, 2010– If you or someone you know operates a company that provides propane-related products or services, then you will be pleased to learn that the Propane Gas Association of Canada (PGAC) has launched a new comprehensive national Propane Services Directory. Available to the public through a new PGAC website at www.propaneservices.ca, this on-line Directory makes it easy and convenient for current and future propane customers to find you. Add your company listing today!

“Our vision for this tool is to have comprehensive listings in every category of propane-related service and in every geographic location in Canada,” says PGAC President, Ann Marie Hann. “It’s good for the propane industry when consumers can easily find information about all things propane. That’s why our Directory is open to all companies offering propane products and services.”

The Propane Services Directory includes a broad range of services, from residential propane delivery, appliances, equipment, refilling stations, cylinder exchange locations and propane vehicle fuel stations and conversion centres, to commercial services, cardlock and keylock locations, cylinder requalification, production, transportation and wholesale services, and associated industry services.

Within the Directory, propane service providers can list their products and services, various locations, and important customer service details. All listings are free during the introductory period, which ends on December 31, 2010. Following this date, listings will continue to be free for PGAC members, with non-members invited to participate for a small annual fee.

The first of its kind for the propane industry, the Directory will make business-to-customer and business-to-business connections much faster, simpler, and more targeted. “This tool is not just for individuals and families with an interest in propane, it’s also for companies working within the industry and with our products,” explains Hann. “It really is one-stop-shopping for propane services, with many advantages to being listed.”

Companies offering propane-related products and services are encouraged to use the on-line forms located on the site to confirm, update, or enter company information in the Directory. With your participation, the Propane Services Directory can be the go-to place for everything propane.

The PGAC is the national voice of the Canadian propane industry. Its mission is to support members in the growth and development of a safe, environmentally responsible Canadian propane industry, for the benefit of all Canadians. With over 300 members, the Association includes propane producers, wholesalers, retailers and transporters, as well as manufacturers of appliances, cylinders and equipment.
